

Workshop on ERP Foundation Level of “SAP Financials”

Automation and Technology are rapidly changing the business environment in the modern world. In order to stay relevant to the contemporary market, organizations are now implementing ERP softwares. These serve all aspects of the functional process at an organization. The different streaks of ERP serve various business procedures and are designed for professionals who are associated with finance, communications, education, healthcare, etc. We hope to accentuate the professional growth of our members by giving them the theoretical and practical understanding of ERPs.
