(b) (i) Ordinary Shares and Preference Shares

02

In ordinary shares, holder receives the remainder of the total profits available for individual. There is no upper limit to the amounts of dividends they can receive.

Whereas in preference shares, holders get an agreed percentage rate of dividend before the ordinary shareholders receive anything.

(ii) Cash Dividend and Stock Dividend

02

A cash dividend is payment made by a company out of its earnings to the investor in the form of cash (either through dividend warrants or electronically transfer).

Whereas stock dividends are similar to cash dividends, however, instead of cash, the company pays out stock. As a result, company shares outstanding increase and the company shares stock price will decrease.

Question No. 6

(a) Wholly Owned Subsidiary:

01

In a wholly owned subsidiary, there is no minority interest because all the shares with voting rights are held by the holding company.

Partly Owned Subsidiary:

01

In a partly owned subsidiary, all the shares of subsidiary company are not acquired by the holding company. Majority of shares (more than 50%) are owned by the holding company while minority interest holds less than 50% of shares with voting rights.

(b) Upstream and Downstream Transactions

05

Upstream Transactions

In the case of upstream transaction, goods are sold by the Subsidiary to holding company. Profit is made by the subsidiary company which is shared by the holding company and the minority shareholders. In such a transaction, if some goods remain unsold at the balance sheet date, the unrealized profit on such goods should be eliminated from minority interest as well as from consolidated profit on the basis of their shareholding besides deducting the same from unsold inventory.

Downstream Transactions

In downstream transaction holding company is the seller and subsidiary company is the buyer. In the case of downstream transaction the whole profit is earned by the holding company, therefore, whole unrealized profit should be adjusted from unsold inventory account and consolidated profit and loss account irrespective of the percentage of the shares held by the parent.

Unrealised losses resulting from intra-group transactions that are deducting in arriving at the carrying amount of assets are also eliminated unless cost cannot be recovered.
